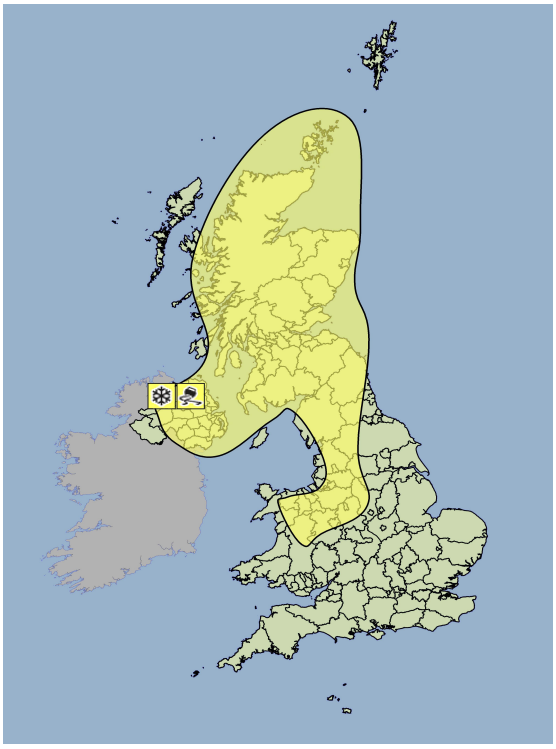
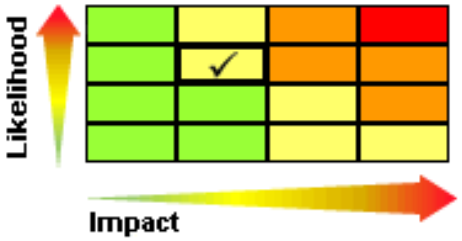
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Clear spells after dark will allow temperatures to widely fall below freezing in places leading to the risk of ice on untreated surfaces. Meanwhile, further snow showers are expected in western and, more especially, northern parts of this yellow warning area. Over Scotland these showers are likely to produce a further 5-10 cm of snow on areas above 300 m and a few cm to lower levels.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Snow and Ice

Valid from 18:00 on Sat, 30th Jan 2016 until 11:00 on Sun, 31st Jan 2016

Icy patches are expected to form on untreated surfaces this evening and overnight onwards into Sunday morning, especially where further snow showers occur after dark.

The public are advised to take extra care and be aware of the potential for some disruption to travel.
